The City of Santa Monica offers fun and interesting enrichment classes at several local elementary schools. Musical theatre, art, dance, karate, tennis, Spanish and yoga are just a few of the many classes available to children in kindergarten through 5th grades. Classes enhance the learning experience by providing an outlet for participants to explore new and varied subjects not offered during the school day. Classes are affordable, offered at school (so there is no need to carpool to another location), and taught by award-winning, professional instructors. For information on school-based enrichment classes, call (310) 458-8540.

The city also offers a full range of park-based enrichment classes for youth. RecScape, the community class schedule, is published quarterly and delivered to all Santa Monica residents as an insert to the city's newsletter SeaScape. For more information on classes, please call (310) 458-2239.

The City of Santa Monica 's Leadership Series provides free civic courses three times a year to engage and inform Santa Monica residents about the operations, functions and services of their local government. The classes range from budget basics to an annual Saturday bus tour of city infrastructure projects underway and recently completed. Leadership Series sessions are generally offered on weeknight evenings from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Santa Monica Public Library, 601 Main Street. Registration and materials are free, but reservations are requested.

Watch SeaScape for announcements of coming classes—or go to smgov.net/leadership for information and on-line registration. Registration is accepted over the phone, as well; call the City Manager's Office at (310) 458-8301.

The City of Santa Monica Community and Cultural Services Department, Cultural Affairs Division, carries out long range strategic planning for the arts and manages the city's public "Percent for Art" Program. It oversees an art collection which includes more than 80 artworks in the city's portable Art Bank and more than thirty permanent pieces and murals. The division supports community art projects and local art organizations by administering the city's grant programs for the arts. The Cultural Affairs Division also produces the Santa Monica Festival every year in the spring.

For additional information on the city's Cultural Affairs Division or its programs, please visit the division's website at arts.smgov.net, or call (310) 458-8350 between 7:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and alternate Fridays from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. After hours and on weekends, you may leave a message and your call will be returned on the next business day.
